∴ In the morning of 26 Apr. 45, two secs. of carriers under the command of Sgt. Dawe were ordered to open the road between Bn. 116 and B Coy. in Varendorf. This road had been cut during the early hours by an enemy platoon from the S.S. company which had infiltrated into the village dur- the night. As far as was known, the enemy were still in position and one of our O.P. tanks travelling down the road a few minutes previously had been bazooka'd. Sgt. Dawe led his carriers in daylight across 800 yards of open country in full view of the enemy. He then closed with them and gained the initiative by firing on the move. At the outskirts of the village he dismounted his men and led them in a charge under heavy fire against an enemy section position. The position was completely destroyed and all the enemy made casualties. This NCO then went forward into the village to link up with the Coy. Using his knowledge of the ground and making use of every bit of cover, he edged forward, killing several Germans en route, and finally arrived at Coy. H.Q. The success of this operation was entirely due to the brilliant leadership and daring of Sgt. Dawe, and his coolness under heavy fire and bravery at all times were a source of great inspiration to his men.

ber of one of the leading sections. An enemy anti-tnk gun opened fire and knocked out one of our tanks which were working ahead of the infantry. Corporal Turner, who had located the gun, crawled forward over very open ground and rushed the gun, killing two of the crew. The remainder ran away and Corporal Turner captured the gun, enabling the tanks to advance. Later in the advance the tanks were held up under heavy enemy shell fire at a nullah which was a formidable tank obstacle. Corporal Turner by himself went forward under enemy light machine-gun and shell fire, reconnoitered a crossing place and personally led the tanks across.

This non-commissioned officer throughout the day showed considerable initiative, dash and complete disregard for his own personal safety and, by eliminating an enemy anti-tank gun and his quick and daring reconnaisance of the tank crossing places, greatly contributed to the defeat of the enemy in this battle.

∴ On the main Athens–Piræus road, a platoon of "C" Company, 2/5 Battalion, The Leicestershire Regiment was erecting a road block during the night of the 14/15 December, 1944.

During the work, a rebel machine-gun opened up at short range directly at the men of the platoon. This fire severely wounded one man. The rebel machine-gun continued to fire at the block, when Pte. Knott, with complete disregard for his own safety, crawled out under this heavy fire and brought his comrade with great difficulty back to safety. The casualty was unconscious and could not help himself in any way; nevertheless, Pte. Knott managed to grasp him and drag him back across the fire-swept road. When this was done, he again set about the erection of the road block and, working under cover of the material already in position, he continued to put up stones. Others followed his example.

Pte. Knott's courage and great devotion to duty were an outstanding example and inspiration to his comrades.

The recipient of this medal was a substitute for an unknown chosen "Quota Man" from the "County Haddington". On 12th September 1797 the County Authority forwarded Stewart's name for Naval Service, and on 2nd November 1797 he was to start his sea service aboard H.M.S. Zealand, and two days later was transferred by a tender from Deptford to H.M.S. Tartarus, where he was rated as a Landsman (on Supernumerary List for Victuals only. SLVO. No. 154). Here in Tartarus he was issued with his hammock and bedding, and charged the normal sum of 13/- for these essential comforts. On 27th January 1798 he was sent back to H.M.S. Zealand, and on the 2nd March passed to H.M.S. Plover.

Now at long last, after his fifth move in six months, he was to join a proper fighting ship, H.M.S. Mars, which he walked aboard on 19th March 1798, and here he was rated as an Ordinary Seaman, thus proving that he had been able to persuade the Officers aboard that he had had about two years' previous sea serxice in the Merchant or Fishing Fleets. Here aboard Mars he stated he was 18 years old, and that he had been born in Aberdeen — but when he entered Greenwich Hospital he gave an age which would have made him 16 on joining Mars, and stated that he had been born in the Parish of Mortlay, Banff.

In Mars he served in the Ship's Company (Ship's Book SB. No. 373) until she was paid off up the Homoaze on 17th April 1802, and there "beached", for this was the period when the Navy drastically cut down its size in the so-called Peace between the Revolutionary and Napoleonic Wars. Stewart's future is thus lost, but it would seem unreasonable to assume that he reverted to being a Merchant Seaman.

When hostilities re-commenced the Navy had to build up once again to its former strength, and Stewart, who was by now round at Yarmouth, found himself "Prest" there in

SALE CATALOGUES

On the average we issue twelve or more Coin Catalogues and three Naval & Military Medal Catalogues each year, some of which are usually of Sales of important Collections.

CATALOGUE SUBSCRIPTIONS

Sale Catalogues, frequently illustrated, are normally posted to Subscribers about three weeks prior to the date of Sale.

Lists of "Prices Realised" are issued after each Sale, thus giving at a glance a reliable guide to value. The final test of value must always be auction prices rather than the figures given in books of reference, for changing times and fashions soon render the latter obsolete and misleading. The Lists of "Prices Realised" will probably be enclosed in a following Sale Catalogue.

AIR MAIL POSTAGE

To allow subscribers resident outside Europe time to submit Postal Bids, Sale Catalogues will, if desired, be sent by Air Mail. Air Mail postage is not, however, included in the Subscription Rate and the cost must be borne by the Subscriber. In such cases a deposit against the cost is required.
